

Congressman Tom DeLay's Texas Internship Program

The office of Congressman Tom DeLay is seeking Texas students that have an interest in government and public service. One student will be chosen for a full-time internship for each of the spring or fall semesters, receive a stipend of $1,000 per month, and will also be eligible to earn course credit.

While interning in Washington, the student will have a variety of responsibilities including researching legislation, drafting responses to constituent letters, and performing administrative duties such as answering phones and opening mail. Interns will also have the opportunity to attend congressional hearings, take courses offered by Congress, attend lectures by leading political figures, and take special tours of Washington's historic landmarks. Additionally, the student will be required to complete a research paper or project on a topic of their choice.

Eligible students must attend a Texas college or university. They must be either a junior or a senior and be returning to school for at least one semester after completion of the internship. Applications must be postmarked by November 1, 2003 for the spring semester and June 1, 2004 for the fall semester.

To apply for this internship, students should send the following information as a completed packet to Congressman DeLay's office at the address below:

- One page resume
- Two letters of recommendation
- Most recent college transcript
- One page statement explaining why he or she desires an internship in Congressman DeLay's office
- One page description of a paper or creative project, to be completed during the internship, that will document the intern's experience in Washington, highlight an area of interest as it relates to the internship, or further work toward a thesis or equivalent project
